

FROM THE BLOG: D is for Dominance

We're beginning a new blog series on the four traits covered by the DiSC assessment! This week: D stands for dominance. Dominance in the DiSC assessment is defined as "[placing] an emphasis on shaping the environment by overcoming opposition to accomplish results." How can dominant personality traits be leveraged to benefit a company and foster great working relationships with coworkers? Read more to find out!

LEARN MORE

EDSI Programs

Increasing Personal Effectiveness

Communicating to Manage Performance

Five Behaviors of a Cohesive Team

Professional Presence in a Casual World

---

Connect with Us!

---

You Can Take Your Own DiSC Assessment Today

Interested in knowing what the DiSC is all about? Want to see what your personal report reveals? We offer an individual assessment option for just $75! Perfect for those who are interested in bringing the assessment to their organizations or who just want to improve their personal effectiveness and communication at work and at home. It's quick to take and provides lots of resources to learn about your personalized results.

CLICK HERE TO GET YOUR REPORT NOW!

---

Looking for ways to increase focus, productivity, and effectiveness?

We have more FREE resources than ever!

Articles | eLearning | Media Library | Blog